Even Alfred Austin's poetry appears to be up against a landslide.

Tom Watson wants the Democratic party to join him. Tom persists in wanting to be in the minority.

George B. Cortelyou returned to Washington on Monday. He is no longer innocent and inexperienced in politics.

Many so-called Democratic ideas are only crimes committed in the name of Democracy. The party has to get convicted now and then on account of some of its friends.

The Democratic party is now able to enjoy the distressed and anxious look of Republicans who are not sure that they can stand pat on their continued welcome at the pie counter.

Col. Bryan declares that the Democratic party must stand by the common people. Yes, but the mighty common kind that landslided Roosevelt won't let us stand by them.

The steadily advancing value of the securities of the Atlantic Coast Line indicates confidence in the management of that system's fine properties, as well as the substantial business yielded by a prosperous South to its various lines of paying railways.

A Republican paper says: "It is evident that there is no further use for the Democratic party in America." Yes, there is. It can be used every four years to compel the Republican party to pull the leg of the trusts. That appears to be the only penalty that the monopolists can be made to suffer.

The Democratic party has elevated to office in the last decade and a half a certain class of politicians who have said and done things and advocated measures that discredit the bed rock principles of the party. We call no names, but there are some barnacles that keep the old ship from sailing along smoothly.

The Democratic majority in North Carolina was big enough, it is true, but the papers generally deprecate the stay at home vote. With a lot of papers preaching Democracy periodically and advocating Republican principles independentism most of the time, there is no wonder that there is indifference among former Democrats.

Is any man in a State which he cannot control himself to re-organise the Democratic party? The Syracuse, N. Y., Journal says: "There is talk of a new party, which, of course, would mean the upbuilding of one of the minor parties, perhaps, under a new name. In Bryan's State the Populist candidate, Watson, secured more votes than Judge Parker, and this is significant. It will be well, later on when official returns are made known, to study the figures and try to discern whence comes the Populist and Socialist movements and whither they are drifting."

LOCAL DOTS.

— The three boats of the Cape Fear Fisheries Company went out Tuesday and caught 1,700 barrels of fatbacks. The fish are worth $1 a barrel.

— The local cotton market yesterday was quoted firm at 9½c. for middling. New York spot was dull at 10:15. Receipts here yesterday were only 1,987 bales against 3,040 same day last season.

— Mrs. Mary J. Rackley, 22 years of age, died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning at her home in Delgado, leaving a young husband, father and an infant nine days old. The remains will be sent for interment to South Washington, N. C., this morning.

— Rebecca Moore, colored, perhaps the oldest inhabitant of Wilmington, died yesterday at her home, 610 North Ninth street, aged about 95 years. Some time ago she fell and suffered a fracture of the hip, which with her extreme age, caused her death.

NAVAL RESERVES CARNIVAL.

There Will be No Postponement—Gaskill Shows Being Booked.

The Naval Reserves have decided not to postpone their carnival as was under consideration this week. It will be given as originally planned the week of Nov. 28th on the vacant lot, near Third and Castle streets. The attractions will be furnished by the Gaskill Carnival Co., which has been playing only the larger cities this season and which is said to be the best aggregation en route. The attractions include a wild animal menagerie and a dog and pony show. An exhibition is being given this week in Augusta, Ga.

Mr. S. K. DeVaney yesterday had a long distance telephone conversation with Mr. Arnold H. Bushea in which he stated that he would come to Wilmington from Charleston and would make all the arrangements for the exhibition here.

NEW YORK STEAMER IN PORT.

She Had Rough Experience With Sunday's Storm—Her Cargo Damaged.

Nearly thirty-six hours overdue as a result of the terrible storm off the coast, her cargo shifted and in a conglomerate mass in the ship's hold, the Clyde steamer Carib, Capt. Chichester, arrived in the port a few minutes before 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon and is now tied up at her wharf at foot of Grace street.

The vessel encountered the severe storm off the Virginia Capes, Sunday and Monday. Captain Chichester says the wind was blowing a terrible gale and great seas were running. The vessel ran before the wind about twelve hours, heading out towards the gulf stream all the time. The seas swept over the deck time and again. One sailor was injured, but not seriously.

Captain Chichester says the Hatteras lightship was dragged some distance from her station and is at present about five miles out of her usual course. The cargo of the steamer will have to be discharged before the measure of the damage to the merchandise aboard can be ascertained.

PAID DEATH PENALTY

PROTESTED THEIR INNOCENCE

Over Two Thousand People Who Surged Into Enclosure Witnessed the Execution and Cut Rope for Souvenirs. No Violence—Statements.

[Special Star Telegram.]

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. C., Nov. 16.—The last scene in the famous Clarkton crime was enacted here to-day when Sellers and Brown were hanged. The gallows was in rear of the jail, enclosed with thin white sheeting which was transparent in the sunlight, though the condemned men's heads were above the top of it as they stood on the trap door. Two thousand whites and five hundred negroes witnessed the hanging. The crowd was noisy and impatient until 11:45 when the prisoners were brought out by Sheriff Lyon and deputies. They walked firmly up the steps and took positions under the beam; the ropes were put on in the jail and tied to the beam afterwards. The men were given an opportunity to make statements.

Sellers said he was an innocent man, and never knew anything of the poor woman. He advised whites and blacks to avoid bad company and never to have any friend. That he had been brought to this by false friends, and was ready to die and meet his God. He pitched his voice high and seemed about to shout. He prayed loudly till the trap fell.

Brown stated that he was innocent and knew nothing of the crime, and said he was going to heaven. Brown recognized several persons and nodded to them.

The sheriff and his deputies bid them good-bye, the black caps were adjusted at 12 o'clock, Sheriff Lyon cut the rope and the condemned men swung into space. Doctors Evans and Lucas pronounced Sellers dead in seven minutes and Brown in eight. Sellers' neck was broken. Brown died from strangulation.

As the drop fell several persons rushed in and tore away the sheeting, cut it into j blets and it was carried away by the crowd. The bodies were cut down in seventeen minutes after the drop fell and immediately placed in coffins. The crowd of men and women and children rushed in to view them before the covers could be put on. The ropes were cut in small pieces and carried off, the husband of the murdered woman securing a piece. It took two strokes of a sharp hatchet to cut the stout rope that held the trap-door. All the officers acted coolly, and it was prompt work that sent the criminals into eternity. The bodies were claimed by relatives. The big crowd was noisy and clamorous, but seemed in good humor. Deputies and special police suppressed a few who talked too loud. Liquor was brought here and seemed to be freely used. The negroes present were very quiet and appeared indifferent; a party of them, men and women, was seen partaking of a liberal lunch a few yards from the gallows in twenty minutes after the drop fell.

No conflict occurred between the whites and blacks, but it is alleged that while the Packer brothers were on their way home they met a negro, Tom Lewis, with whom they had trouble. Lewis was cut very seriously from his left eye to the lower lip and to the bone, losing quantities of blood before he reached here and had his wound sewed up. His coat was also cut in the back to his shirt. It is thought that his wound will not prove fatal.

Although Brown and Sellers denied their guilt it is believed thoroughly that they are the guilty ones' Sheriff Lyon is commended very highly for the stand he has taken in this case. This is an object lesson to every community that the best way is to execute guilty men legally.

Their Written Statements.

At the request of the correspondent of the STAR, Sellers and Brown last night in jail, in their own hand, wrote the following statement, each incriminating the other. Sellers writes a fairly good hand, but Brown's is hardly as good. They were evidently very much excited while writing the statements, which are printed verbatim:

MAYOR'S RECEPTION YESTERDAY.

Eighteen offenders, not all of whom, however, could trace their undoing to the circus on the day before, were arraigned before the Mayor yesterday. Wilmington people were prepared for the worst after the reports of robbery and pick-pocket work at other places where the shows exhibited, but not a single occurrence of the kind came from the visit of the circus to this city, all of which speaks well, in no uncertain terms, of the Wilmington police department.

The cases yesterday were Hammon Tietgen, drunk and disorderly, ordered below for further consideration; Oscar Wansell, a soldier, drunk and down, $5 and cost; Kenny Johnson, drunk and disorderly, not guilty and discharged; Fred Clark and Minnie Clark, both colored, affray on the circus grounds; $5 and costs for the man, 60 days in jail with leave to hire out as to the woman, who was also charged with being drunk and disorderly; Donnie Meares and Jim Wilkins, affray at Samaritan Hall Monday night, $5 and costs as to Meares, $10 and costs as to Wilkins; Jno. T. Morgan, drunk and down, $5 and costs; Frank Mumford, drunk and disorderly, fined $10 and costs; Fannie Johnson, colored, disorderly conduct, 30 days in jail with leave to hire out; Estella Davis, same charge, same penalty; John Anderson, drunk and down, judgment left open; Joe French, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs; E. L. Nole and Chas. Bazzarke, soldiers, affray, judgment suspended as to Nole, bond forfeited by last named; Isaac Galloway, assault upon his wife, fined $5 and costs; Samuel Williams, committing nuisance on street, fined $5 and costs.

BRIDE OF AN ARMY OFFICER.

Marriage of Miss Marie Baldwin to Dr. William Chambers in Baltimore.

A large number of friends in society circles in Wilmington will be interested in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Marie Baldwin, a sister of Mrs. J. A. Arringdale, and a social favorite in this city where she had often visited, to Dr. William Chambers, U. S. A., which was celebrated in Baltimore, Md., at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The marriage is not without a romantic accompaniment, Miss Baldwin having first met Dr. Chambers while he was on an official visit to Fort Caswell last Summer and she was spending some time at Southport. An attachment formed at the outset ripened into something more serious with the result that a few days ago when Dr. Chambers was unexpectedly ordered to a three years service in the Philippines, he first came to Wilmington, arriving Friday evening. The engagement was announced Saturday evening and Miss Baldwin, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Arringdale, went to Baltimore this week for the ceremony in their native State. Dr. and Mrs. Chambers expect to leave at once for the Philippines.

Good Woman Gone.

Mrs. Annie F. Wilson, wife of Mr. Jno. A. Wilson, and a most estimable woman, passed away yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. I. F. Huggins, No. 501 Swann street. Mrs. Wilson was 59 years of age. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about two weeks ago and had been declining in health ever since. She leaves only her daughter and husband to mourn their loss. Funeral will be conducted from the residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the remains will be laid to rest in Oakdale.

What's the use to buy ready-made clothes when you can get the same goods in fine custom tailored garments at the same money? Hundreds of well satisfied customers will tell you how it's done at I. Shrier's, northeast corner of Front and Princess streets. "At the sign of the Golden Arm." That's the place.

THEIR WEDDING DAY.

THREE SERVICES YESTERDAY.

Miss Edna Louise Fleet to Mr. James Love Davis; Miss Runge to Mr. Geo. Haar, and Miss Reilly to Mr. B. F. Applewhite—Notes.

Fifth Street Methodist church has never presented a more animated nor a more beautiful scene than on yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock when Mr. James Love Davis led to hymen's altar Miss Edna Louise Fleet, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fleet, all of this city, and they were made man and wife in a pretty and most impressive service by the Rev. Alpheus McCullen, pastor of the congregation, a large assemblage of friends and relatives, both from this city and a distance, having been present to witness the consummation of the happy event. The church interior was beautifully decorated with a wealth of plants and flowers, the color scheme having been white and green, which was carried out perfectly. The design at the altar was a handsome pyramid of palms, ferns, bamboo and flowers at the base of which the solemn words of the ceremony were spoken. The chancel rail, columns and other stationary architecture in the church were wrapped and woven with white and green.

The wedding marches were played with beautiful effect and in most artistic manner by Miss Mamie McGirt. First, to the strains of Lohengrin, entered down either aisle, the ushers by twos—Messrs. John H. LeGwin, W. B. Muse, A. L. Dosher and Harry S. McGirt. They were followed in perfect order and precise step by the two pretty little ribbon girls, Miss Caroline Fleet, sister of the bride, and Miss Annie Davis, sister of the groom, both clad in spotless white French batiste. Next followed the maid of honor, Miss Carlotta Fleet, sister of the bride, in a becoming costume of green China silk with a handsome bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair ferns. The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. J. W. Fleet, down the left aisle. She wore a pretty gown of white silk, crepe de chine, trimmed with chiffon and applique. She wore a tulle veil and carried an exquisite bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The groom entered with his best man, Mr. Wilbur R. Dosher, of Florence, S. C., from the pastor's study, at the left, and joined the bride at the altar. The beautiful ring service was used and the bride was given away by her father.

The ceremony over, the bridal party left the church to the ever popular strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. A brief reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, No. 408 South Fifth street, which was also beautifully decorated with bamboo and other evergreens and flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Davis received the most happy congratulations of friends and with many creditors will give the benefit of his melodious voice, and Fifi the talented opera singers, lend her graceful charms for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Pettibone will return from their trip abroad in time to greet the audience. Unconscious of the apartment plan, after some complications and mistakes in which Mr. Pettibone's friend Augustus McSnath is said to have "vouched the family," they arrive too soon for the unraveling of mysteries, and Mrs. Bender, after declaring herself a widow is forgiven by the resurrected ghost of her husband, much to the happiness of Evangeline and Albert.

In its report of the A. C. L. stockholders' meeting in Richmond Tuesday the News-Leader says:

"After the routine business had been disposed of, Chairman John P. Branch, by way of complimenting the officials, said: 'I knew this road in 1840 when it was but two streaks of rust from Weldon to Wilmington, N. C. Now the property embraces over 1,100 miles of the best road in the best part of the country, and having the brightest future that any road has ever had. We owe all this to the able and efficient management of the affairs of the company.'

"John Stewart Bryan, in commenting on the condition of the company and its property said: "It is a matter to be justly proud of. The road to-day has one of the most loyal bodies in the world in its official and operating departments. Every man from the humblest track walker to the able chairman of the meeting, Mr. Branch, is entitled not only to praise, but to the unlimited confidence of all the stockholders."

"A resolution of thanks to the operating and controlling officials was presented by B. B. Munford, who also spoke in the highest terms of the officials.

"Immediately after the meeting the officials left on a special train for Charleston, S. C., where meetings of subsidiary companies will be held to-morrow.

"The committee on examination reported the road and all its property in excellent condition. The work of double tracking is going ahead rapidly, and the country through which the road passes is being rapidly developed, as shown by the wonderful strides made in the last year."

— Capt. Donald MacRae, one of the Board of Directors, and Mr. Hugh MacRae, a large stockholder, returned yesterday morning from Richmond, where they attended yesterday the annual stockholders' meeting of the Atlantic Coast Line.

Reilly, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Reilly and the late Maj. James Reilly, and Mr. Bartholomew Felix Applewhite, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Applewhite, of Cronly, N. C., and a popular young employe of the transportation department of the A. C. L. in his city, was celebrated at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Thomas' Pro-Cathedral, the Rev. Father C. Dennen officiating. Conforming to the wishes of both bride and groom the affair was very quiet and only a few intimate friends and relatives were present. The service, however, was a pretty one and after its consummation, Mr. and Mrs. Applewhite received the heartiest congratulations of very many friends at the home of the bride's mother on North Fourth street. A number of handsome wedding gifts were received, one of which was by fellow employes of Mr. Applewhite in the A. C. L. The bride and groom left on the 6:50 P. M. train for a bridal trip to Washington. They will return in about ten days and be at home at Mrs. Reilly's on North Fourth street.

STEAMER "CITY OF FAYETTEVILLE."

Raleigh Trust Company Receiver for Boat Line—Bills of Intervention.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 16.—Judge Purnell appoints the Carolina Trust Company, of this city, as receiver for the Fayetteville & Wilmington Steamboat Company, which operates the steamer "City of Fayetteville." A number of bills of intervention are filed, representing considerable claims against the company, which counsel admit has been a failure from the start owing to the too expensive equipment. The Trust Company will operate the boat subject to the orders of the court.

There has been filed with the clerk of the United States Court here a prayer by the Wilmington Iron Works asking that it be permitted to come in and become an intervener of the original libel against the steamer "City of Fayetteville." The plaintiff is represented by Messrs. Empie & Empie.

AT THE ACADEMY TO-NIGHT.

W. L. I. Dramatic Club Have Treat in Store for Everybody—The Play.

In addition to the worthy object, and, consequently, the interest which it demands from the community, the company who have, so kindly, each and all, lent their aid to the committee from the Cape Fear Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy will render their parts to perfection, and offer to-night a merry entertainment to those who attend. Albert Hastings, (the nephew of ill luck) in his cunningly devised means of delivering himself from his financial embarrassments, by letting out apartments in his uncle's house, during the owner's absence, in which he is assisted by Tom, his humble partner, (and he "gits half,") will welcome children to his apartments to-night for the small sum of 25 cents. As the nervous galoot will be supplied with audiphones, even dogs allowed if particular pets, and not too aggressive, or vociferous in their applause. Mr. and Mrs. Bender, unbending from their matrimonial dignity and their daughter, Evangeline, with her captivating charms will keep things busy in the complications of which they are the centre, while Langhorne, the "Dude" with many creditors will give the benefit of his melodious voice, and Fifi the talented opera singers, lend her graceful charms for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Pettibone will return from their trip abroad in time to greet the audience. Unconscious of the apartment plan, after some complications and mistakes in which Mr. Pettibone's friend Augustus McSnath is said to have "vouched the family," they arrive too soon for the unraveling of mysteries, and Mrs. Bender, after declaring herself a widow is forgiven by the resurrected ghost of her husband, much to the happiness of Evangeline and Albert.

ORDINATION SERVICES.

Rev. Wm. H. Ferris, Pastor of Christ's Congregational Church, Ordained.

(Communicated.)

Rev. A. F. Beard, D. D., honorary secretary of the American Missionary Association and the statesman and scholar who during the past quarter of a century has largely shaped the educational propaganda of the great Congregational Church (colored), preached the sermon at the ordination services of Rev. Wm. H. Ferris in the Christ Congregational Church last night before a large and interested audience. Dr. Beard's sermon was very eloquent.

Rev. Oreshatikeh Faduma, a native of Africa and a graduate of London University, delivered the ordination charge and Rev. Geo. H. Wilson, of Dudley, N. C., made the ordination pryaer.

Rev. Ferris, the new pastor here, is a Master of Arts of both Yale and Howard. The council that was called to examine Rev. Ferris consisted of Rev. Oreshatikeh Faduma, moderator; Prof. Geo. A. Woodward, of Gregory Institute, secretary; Rev. A. F. Beard, D. D., of New York; Rev. Geo. H. Wilson, of Dudley; Rev. F. W. Shine, of Dudley; Prof. John Holt, of the Williston Graded Schools, and Reddick Diew, of Wilmington. Tonight Rev. Faduma will deliver a free lecture.

THURSDAY MORNING. NOV. 17.

TROUBLE IN THE CAMP.

e are not putting any too much confidence in stories about prospective troubles in the over-large Republican ranks. However, it is well to keep an ear to the ground and listen to what is going on.

The rumblings of Roosevelt's landslide have not died away before we learn that trouble makers are liable to prevent President Roosevelt's new administration from having easy sailing. The news is sent out from Washington that the landslide administration is to be confronted with an unfriendly faction.

The STAR has time and again insisted that the Republican party had no other course than to "stand pat" on the tariff. It had to stand pat to the demands of the protected interests, and, as a business proposition, it had to stand pat in order to keep up a tremendouus revenue to carry on the extravagant programme of Republicanism. It is now up to the Roosevelt administration to get up a tariff that will produce the desired revenue. Too much stand pat on prohibitive schedules will cut off the revenues, for when the tariff is so high on some lines that it shuts out importations no import duties are to be collected. To satisfy the standpaters and at the same time encourage enough importation of foreign products to raise revenues is what the new administration will be up against.

There is no doubt about it that a less prohibitive tariff will produce more revenue. This was proven by the Wilson-Gorman tariff under President Cleveland's administration. That tariff, with generally lower schedules than previous Republican tariff measures, produced more revenue than the preceding Republican tariffs. During the campaign the Republicans howled against Democratic ability to finance the government but Grover Cleveland turned over to his Republican successors a tremendous surplus. Having denounced Democratic tariff measures, the Republicans will now have to imitate them or spring a new scheme of taxation in addition to the tariff taxes.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun sent this on Monday, and it is worth while giving it as an indication of coming events at the national capital:

"It appears that President Roosevelt has still some trouble-makers to deal with in his own party. There was a certain element of mere politicians whose influence was exerted to the utmost to prevent his nomination and who in the fight against him involved him in the negro question and at the Chicago convention cast a chill over his nomination, though it had to be unanimous. This was the partisan, stand-pat, political element of the party devoted to special interests and skilled in the sort of politics which counts only for commercial advantage The men who are leaders in this political thought are now bent upon involving Congress and the Administration in a party contention for the purpose of defeating practical business propositions.

"The only way to increase the revenues of the Government so as meet the increase of expenditure without resorting to the unpopular and almost impossible increase of internal taxes, will be through a reduction of prohibitive tariff schedules to a revenue basis. The champions of prohibitive tariff fully understand that more revenue will have to be raised if expenditures are not to be reduced, and they are seriously alarmed at the prospect of a reduction of tariff rates to a point which will admit of importation and expansion of trade and a consequent increase of customs revenues. Representative Babcock, of Wisconsin, the chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, has called attention to the need for an adjustment of the tariff rate with a reduction of duty on articles on which the duty now is higher than warranted by the "protective principle." He says that such reduction is favored by a large number of Republicans as being necessary and suggests an extra session of Congress for that purpose.

"The ultra-protectionists, representing the special interests to which excessive profits are secured through prohibitive duty, are greatly alarmed at the suggestions that representatives of their own party are disposed to take this view of the question. They want to distract attention from this practical economic question by exciting partisanship and involving Congress in a political contention over the question of Southern representation in Congress, even if it shall involve a sacrifice of the Administration.

"The Washington Star this evening in an article which there is warrant to regard as inspired, represents Republican party leaders as determined to effect a reduction of the Southern representation in proportion to the restriction of suffrage by constitutional amendments in Southern States, and says that if an extraordinary session of the Fifty-ninth Congress be assembled this subject will probably be taken up.

"This, of course, is a foil to the proposition of an extraordinary session for the purpose of reducing the tariff to a revenue basis. There is no pretense that it has the sanction of the President, but the expectation is expressed that Mr. Roosevelt will come around to that way of thinking.

"The essential thing for the success of the Administration is that the government shall have revenues enough to meet the growing expenditures, and that the country shall be prosperous in all sections and as free as possible from political contention. The proposition of these leaders, in order to avoid legislation essential to the welfare of the country and the success of Mr. Roosevelt's administration, is to launch at once a political controversy which will breed bad feeling, check the development and threaten the capital invested in a very important section of the country."

HIGH PRICE SHAW'S ASPIRATIONS

Says the Baltimore Sun in an editorial under the heading, "Can Mr. Shaw Be Spared?"

"All the gossip about impending Cabinet changes may be without foundation. It is singular, however, that the majority of the reports, whether mere surmises or with some foundation, concur in one respect—namely, that Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson will retire after March 4. It has been whispered that Mr. Shaw has Presidential aspirations, but this alone ought not to cause his withdrawal from the Cabinet. Even a future President might consent to serve his country in the Treasury Department before he is called up higher. Mr. Shaw has demonstrated in two campaigns—the Congressional contest of 1902 and the campaign this year—that he is a "spellbinder" of a captivating quality. He is also a prophet. A statesman who has these characteristics is needed in public life. Mr. Shaw is now quoted as saying that in 1908 several Southern States can be carried by the Republican party—among them Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia. That is a matter of which the people of those States are best able to judge. It is rather early to count now the chickens that will not be hatched for four years. There is no telling what the Secretary's oratory might not accomplish in the next campaign. He has a very fetching way of appealing to those whom he calls "the boys." How can the President spare from his Cabinet this poetically imaginative son of Iowa whose speeches in the recent campaign were the envy of all other spellbinders and the joy of the nation?"

Col. Shaw is more than "poetically imaginative." He is politically flighty when he can see North Carolina wavering toward Republicanism. When the full Democratic vote fails to come out it tends to give encouragement to rainbow chasers like Secretary Shaw. That is the worst of it.

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot is editorially afraid of the "craw-craw." How age works on the temerity of some editors! You can't scare us off the turf with your "craw-craw" bogey.

CURRENT COMMENT.

— The election is a sad blow to public confidence in the postal card canvass. Perhaps somebody stuffed the ballot to coax on the betters.—Elmira Gazette.

— Governor Odell is said to have won $300,000 on the election. Yet New York's laws provide severe punishment for gamblers.—Baltimore Sun.

— The oldest inhabitant who can tell about big snow storms that got to old Virginia earlier in the season than November 13th, can now stand up and be counted.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

— J. Warren Keifer, of Ohio, is going to lead the fight for the reduction of Congressional representation from the Southern States. Mr. Crumpacker will have a cause for infringement proceedings.—Washington Post.

— It is stated in our Washington correspondence that President Roosevelt is opposed to the partizan scheme to reduce Southern representation. If this is true the attempt of radicals to force such legislation will likely be abandoned, but if it is pushed through and vetoed by the President he will not only show that he is friendly to the South, but intends to be a broad-minded statesman and not a partisan president.—Columbia Record.

— "The whole South is enjoying a glorious era of prosperity," said Mr. Mark J. O'Brien, of Chattanooga, assistant general manager of the Southern Express Company, at the New Willard. "A traveller on the Southern Railway can see the glare of the lights in the night time, through the Carolinrs, the demands for their products being so great that the factories must be run day and night. I don't believe there was ever a time when the Southern people were so busy as now, or when the resources of their section were being so rapidly deeveloped."—ashington Post.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an advertisement of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50 cents, at R. R. — What makes you think that Pleder, the attorney, is so well-to-do? Why, he must be; he told me the other day that he gets his money by the case.—Boston Courier.

— "He is going into the Russian army to make a name for himself." "What is the use?" said the young man with a monocle. "No one can pronounce a Russian name after it's made."—Washington Star.

— Police Magistrate—How did you manage to extract the man's watch from his pocket when it was provided with a safety catch? Pickpocket—Excuse me, your honor, but that is a professional secret. I am willing to teach you, however, for $10.—Chicago Daily News.

— Mother—"I understand Mr. Huggard is to call upon you again this evening." Ethel—"Of course, mamma' we're engaged." Mother—"Didn't I tell you not to give that young man any encouragement." Ethel—"Yes, mamma, but he didn't need any encouragement.—Philadelphia Press.

— A novelist who is well acquainted with the British Museum laughs over some of the questions put to the attendants there. One woman, for example, said: "I have been looking for the skull of Oliver Cromwell. Have you no skull of Cromwell here?" "No, madam," was the reply. "How very odd!" exclaimed the disappointed teacher; they have a fine one in the museum at oxford."—Birmingham (Eng.) Post.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Wilmington Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Wilmington readers.

R. A. Biddle, clerk at 19 Market street, residing at 606 Castle street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for kidney trouble and my wife who also suffered from backache also used them. I never knew anything to act so quickly. I have suffered quite a long time with my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were very dark and full of sediment. My wife also complained of her back, and when we read of Doan's Kidney Pills in our newspapers I went to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box. We used them with the best of results. In my case the kidney secretions cleared up and the pains left my back. We have neither of us complained since taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and it is with pleasure that I recommend them at every opportunity."

Substitute For Candles.

There were two substitutes for candles. The one was the ancient oil lamp, the crocsie (French creuset), a triangular metal saucer with an upright hook at the base to be hung up by. There was an inner saucer, movable, to graduate the use of the oil. At the apex of the angle was flame, coming from a wick made of pitch of rushes, which must be cut at full moon, as the flame was thought to wax and wane with the moon if cut at any other time. The other substitute for the candle was the bog candle. It was made by splitting up the resinous logs of the primeval firs that are found imbedded in the bogs.

They were left to dry at the fireside over the cruck or chain that held up the pot over the fire. The candlestick, called the peerman, was a stone with a hole in its center, into which was fixed a pillar of wood about four feet high and tipped with a cleft piece of iron, into which the candle fitted. The nose of the candle was always turned to the door.—Blackwood's Magazine.

When Japanese Maids Are Jilted.

When she no longer has any doubt as to his faithlessness, she gets up in the middle of the night and puts on a pleasing dress and wooden sandals. Attached to her headdress she carries three lighted candles, and suspended to her neck hangs a small mirror. She takes in her left hand a small straw effigy of the faithless one, and in her right a hammer and nails.

Walking gravely to the sanctuary, she selects one of the sacred trees, and nails the effigy securely to the trunk. She then prays for the death of the traitor, vowing that if her wish is granted she will take out the nails which trouble her god, since they are fastened to a sacred tree. Night after night she comes to the tree, adding one or two nails and repeating her prayers, persuaded that the god will not hesitate to sacrifice the man to save the tree.—London Mail.

A Floral Mystery.

The Chinese, Japanese and Siamese are peculiarly skillful at botanical feats. One of their wonderful achievements is known as the "changeable rose." This bloom is white in the shade and red in the sunlight. After night or in a dark room this curiosity of the rose family is a pure, waxy white blossom. When transferred to the open air, the transformation immediately steps in, the time of the entire change of the flower from white to red depending on the degree of sunlight and warmth. First the petals take on a kind of washed or faded blue color and rapidly change to a faint blush of pink. The pink gradually deepens in hue until you find that your lily white rose of an hour before is as red as the reddest peony that ever bloomed.

Auctions In China.

To a stranger a Chinese auction is a most curious spectacle. The auctioneer leans over a slightly elevated counter and exhibits his wares. He says nothing, neither does the bidder, who merely steps forward to the auctioneer and runs his fingers up his sleeve, making pressure on the salesman's arm, thus indicating how much he will pay for the article. Then another and another repeat the action until the one signifying the highest price receives the article without a word being exchanged on either side. Only the auctioneer and the successful bidder know the price offered and accepted.

Kindness.

Be kind no matter if you are on the honest run to catch your interests in life. While you run let your fleeting presence prove a blessing to those whom you must pass in the race to reach the goal. Leave behind you a trail of golden remembrances of words and smiles of good cheer that have cost you nothing at all in self sacrifice or money or physical strength or mental effort.

Sensitive.

"Ah," he protested, "my love for you is the greatest thing in the world. It is larger than the world. It is wider than the sea. Let me pour it into your ears."

"Sir," ejaculated the fair maid, "do you mean to insinuate anything about the size or shape of my ears?"

A Great Composer.

"It was a mistake to ask that man if he thought America would ever produce a great composer. I am afraid you hurt his feelings."

"I don't see why," responded the musical young woman.

"He is the inventor of a soothing sirup."—Washington Star.

Sheer Waste.

Wife—John, is there any poison in the house? Husband—Yes. But why do you ask? Wife—I want to sprinkle some on this piece of angel cake and put it where the mice will get it. Wouldn't that kill them? Husband—Sure; but it isn't necessary to waste the poison.

Sample.

"George didn't keep his engagement with me last night," said the girl who was betrothed to him.

"I'd give him a piece of my mind," said her mother.

"Just a little sample of married life," suggested the father.—Cleveland Leader.

One of the Girls—Do you think your poems are widely read? The Poet—Yes; nearly every editor in the country reads them.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of one point to a decline of two points in response to a pretty steady set of Liverpool cables. The absence of fresh business gave the bears an opportunity to force the market off and after the first few minutes during which the prices of practically all options sold about even with the close of the previous night, the market turned easier. Trading was almost entirely lost. After declining to a net loss of about three and eight points the market steadied slightly on room covering promoted by the large profits. The close was steady at a net decline of three to eight points, with sales of 75,000 bales, according to estimates. The movement is running a little heavier than expected early in the week, and into sight estimates for the week now hang around 550,000 bales against estimates of 500,000 bales earlier. The large exports naturally explain the heavier receipts to some extent.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever and Constipation all yield to this perfect pill. Only 25c, at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

For Over Sixty Years.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Raleigh Post: The proposition of going around your elbow to get to your nose is completely knocked out by the Republican scheme of running for Congress to get a post office.

— Raleigh News and Observer: It is very small business to be denouncing Northern Democrats. There are thousands of Democrats in every Northern State who are second to none in loyalty and patriotism, and it is silly to denounce them for the avalanche.

— Wilson Times: The Dunn banks have been consolidated and Mr. D. S. Boykin, of Wilson, made president. Before consolidation the Dunn bank was a State institution operating under a State charter, and the First National was operated under a national banking charter.

— Alleghany Star: If Blackburn is elected to Congress, as seems probable by a very small majority, it has been accomplished in two ways: by the purchase of votes and by trading all the Republican State and county candidates everywhere. We surmise some of the county candidates that were struck in different places by trading on them for Blackburn will not think the job quite honorable.

— Raleigh News and Observer: It "sticks in the craw" of the worshippers of Teddy the First that he did not get an electoral vote south of the Potomac. It is their belief that if all the negroes had been permitted to vote, Roosevelt would have been able to break the solid South. According to the Washington Star, which often speaks for the Republican administration, the Republican leaders are determined either to reduce Southern representation or to force the South to let every negro vote.

— Wash Riley, white, who lives in West Durham, is in a critical condition with a bullet that went through his shoulder and into a lung. The bullet was fired by Roland Browning. Both men say that it was an accident. From what can be learned it seems that Riley, Browning and three other men went to the home of a fortune teller and while leaving the shooting occurred. It is said that Browning was the first to leave and when a short distance from the house he pulled a gun and began firing in a rather reckless manner. One of the balls entered the shoulder of Riley.

— Raleigh Post, Nov. 16th: The Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Justice Connor in the case in re Emmitt Boyette from Lenoir, declares unconstitutional chapter 1, sections 65 and 67, Acts of the 1899 Legislature, providing that in the event a man is acquitted of murder on the plea of insanity and is committed to the criminal department of the hospital for the insane, he shall remain there, in the event he regains his right mind, until a special act of the Legislature shall restore him his liberty, is unconstitutional and remanding the case at bar to the judge of the Superior Court for further findings, especially as to the sanity of the prisoner, and holds that in the event he is found to be sane the writ of habeas corpus must be granted.

— Salisbury Sun: Although Hon. E. Spencer Blackburn has been elected on the face of the returns to Congress by the narrowest sort of margin, there is no likelihood of his succeeding himself. It is stated to-day by a well informed politician that Wilkes county will be taken out of the Eighth and added to the Fifth and that Union, with a Democratic majority, will be substituted for Wilkes. We violate no confidence in recalling the fact that when the districts were formed by the Legislature of 1900, Rowan, Iredell, Cabarrus and Stanly counties protested at the present arrangement, foreseeing the difficulties that would inevitably result. It is better late than never, but it none the less a pity that so good a man as W. C. Newland should have become a victim of a political blunder.

— A dispatch from Asheville says: Deputy Sheriff Ott Wells returned to the city to-night from the Asheville Farm School, ten miles from the city on the Swannanoa river, bringing with him two students of the school, Colon Furches and Willard Gosnell, who are charged with attemping to burn the school buildings about 11 o'clock last night. The boys are no more than 16 years of age and have been students of the school for some time. Last night, it is alleged, they went to the basement of the dormitories and piling a lot of rubbish on the floor, set fire to it. Another student was awakened by the smell of smoke and located the flames the fire was burning slowly when discovered and was soon extinguished with loss of property, that the early discovery of the blaze probably saved the lives of many students and much property is almost certain. The boys were kept in confinement by the superintendent of the school until this afternoon, when an officer went for them. They gave as the reason for desiring to burn the building that they were tired of going to school. One of the boys is said to have run away sometime ago and when made to return by his uncle said that he would burn the building and thus rid himself of having to go to school. A charge of arson in the first degree will be preferred against the young men and they will have to stand trial for their lives.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck, and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Mr. R. F. Giersch, whose house in West Raleigh was entered by burglars during the circus, has received information of the capture of a suspect at Wilson who had upon his person jewelry which is supposed to be the same which was taken from Mr. Giersch's residence. It is said that another suspect has been captured at Fayetteville who has valuable jewelry upon his person, but of this case definite information is lacking. It will be remembered that the houses of Mr. Giersch and Mr. Bruce Wright have both been entered recently. In each instance the burglars secured articles of jewelry and small amounts of money. It is presumed that the thieves are professionals who make a practice of following the circusses and the fairs. Some of the gentry of this class are always left in the State prisons after the "tumult and the shouting" dies upon the parades.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

WINTER'S APPROACH

A day of sunshine now and then, but these frosty mornings admonish us that sable Winter is almost here. That suggests the comforts and satisfaction of one of our modern heaters. We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

We are yours just now for stoves and ranges, but all the time for hardware and agricultural implements. Let us serve you.

THURSDAY MORNING. NOV. 17.

TRIAL OF NAN PATTERSON.

Young Woman Charged With the Murder of Caesar Young in New York City. Selecting the Jury.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—After more than five months in the Tombs prison awaiting trial on the charge of murder, the case of Nan Patterson, the alleged slayer of Caesar Young, was brought to trial in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court to-day. Delay, first from one cause and then from another has been a prominent feature in the case ever since Miss Patterson was taken into custody after the tragic death of Young in a cab in which he and the young woman were driving to the pier where Young was to take a steamer for Europe. Even in its last stages, after the date for trial had been fixed, a minor case which claimed the attention of the court, dragged slowly along and forced another delay.

In anticipation of the beginning of the trial, the court room was crowded with spectators when Justice Vernon M. Davis took his seat on the bench to-day. There was only a slight delay before it was announced that everything for the opening of the trial was in readiness. Miss Patterson, dressed in black, was brought in by prison attendants and took a seat beside her counsel, Abraham Levy and Daniel O'Reilly. Her father, B. Randolph Patterson, of Washington, had a seat within the bar enclosure.

The work of selecting a jury from a special panel of 100 talesmen was begun at once.

The prosecution will depend entirely upon circumstantial evidence in building up their case against the defendant, according to a statement made by Assistant District Attorney Rand during the examination of talesmen.

Four jurors had been accepted when adjournment was taken for the day.

RAILROAD MEETINGS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 16.—At the annual meeting of the Charleston and Western Carolina railroad to-day, the old board and officers were re elected: J. B. Cleveland, president; Henry Walters, vice president; R. D. Cronly, secretary; J. F. Post, treasurer; J. R. Kenly, general manager; T. M. Emerson, traffic manager; H. O. Prince, general auditor. Directors: H. Walters, Michael Jenkins, W. G. Elliott, J. B. Cleveland, Avery Patton, A. F. McKissick, J. D. Cleming, J. P. Doughtrey, J. A. Broch. All were present except Mr. Doughtrey. The president's report was read and adopted.

The annual meeting of the Northeastern railroad of South Carolina followed and officers were re-elected. President Thomas Wilson's report was read and adopted and four per cent. dividend declared. Meetings were also held of the Charleston Terminal Company and Charleston Union Station Company which resulted in routine business and re-elections of officers.

CHINESE REBELLION.

Imperial Troops Defeated in an Engagement With Rebels.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16.—The rebels have repulsed the imperial troops at Liue Chow Eau, in the province of Kwang, southern China. They have captured Yuen Hosien, Tieu Hosien, Locheng Chien, Hua Yen Hosien and Liu Chen, five of the principal towns in the province. The merchants and bankers fled from the towns.

Viceroy Chow has been ordered to immediately assume the duties of his post and to check the rebels in the Yang Tse valley.

A dispatch from Shanghai, Oct, 13, reported a three days fight between Chinese troops and rebels at Locheng Schien, one of the towns mentioned in the foregoing telegram, in which a large body of the latter was defeated.

A MILITARY WEDDING.

HAVOC WROUGHT BY GREAT STORM.

Tidal Wave on Carolina Coast Washed Buildings Away and Caused Loss of Life.

THE DISASTERS TO SHIPPING.

Naval Collier Sterling Badly Damaged. Schooner Capsized and All on Board Drowned Near Roanoke Island. The Yacht Roberta.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 16.—Oyster men arriving at Elizabeth City, N. C., this morning from Croatan river and Pamlico sound report the foundering Sunday of the yacht Roberta, of Providence, R. I., and the loss of all aboard. The Roberta was bound for Florida with a hunting party to stay the Winter. She was at Elizabeth City Friday and left Saturday for the South. No names can be learned. One of the party was a large man, called "Senator" by his companions, and another was a theatrical man or a violinist, according to the reports from the natives in that section, whom he delighted with several selections while at the wharf when the boat was coaling.

The oyster men report warning the yacht to put back on account of the storm that was raging and that she found ered with all on board, very shortly afterwards, evidently in turning and getting into the trough of the seas.

Only one man of the yacht's company was seen after the boat sank and he climbed up on the mast but it broke beneath his weight before aid could reach him. No bodies have been found. The affair occurred in a remote section of the Carolina coast, between the strip of land which separates the ocean from the sound and the mainland,

A report from Roanoke Island says a yacht has been sighted off that point, supposed to be the Roberta. This cannot be verified.

The Roberts was a schooner yacht with gasoline auxiliary. She passed through the Dismal Swamp canal Thursday en route south. Records have her from Providence, R. I., to Florida and give her captain's name as Golden.

Station Washed Away.

Further advices from the North Carolina coast report that the New Inlet life saving station was destroyed by Sunday's hurricane and that several of the crew stationed there were lost. It is said a tidal wave washed across the strip of land separating the ocean from the sound and carried the station building away. The news was brought to Elizabeth City to-day by seamen.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., NOV. 16.—The Providence men composing the hunting party reported lost with the foundering of the schooner yacht Roberts, off the coast of North Carolina Sunday, are: Col. Felix R. Wendelschaefer, proprietor of the Providence opera house; Walter R. Stiness, Republican leader in the State Senate, and Willard C. Perkins. The crew of the Roberta were Capt. Isaac Golden, of Pawtuxet, R. I., his son Charles Golden and a nephew whose name is unknown here. Capt. Golden and his crew are believed to have taken the yacht to Norfolk, where the others boarded her, leaving last Thursday.

Collier Badly Damaged.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 16.—The United States naval collier Sterling, Captain George McDonald commanding, which arrived at the yard late Wednesday evening, is considerably the worse for wear as the result of the terrific storm along the Atlantic Coast, which was encountered Saturday night and Sunday. The collier left the naval station at Pensacola on the evening of November 8th, bound for this port. At 8 o'clock Sunday morning, the Sterling refused to steer, either to run before the gale or to come head to it. The cabin became flooded and the main boiler worked in its saddle so violently that it caused the steam pipe to burst. As a result of this accident the steam in the boilers had to be blown out and the engines stopped. A sea anchor, composed of side ladders and fenders lashed together and attached to seventy fathoms of six inch manila hawser, was placed under the stern of the collier as a drag, to prevent her laying in the trough of the sea. In this condition the collier drifted for seventy-eight miles until Monday morning, when the storm abated. So disabled was the collier that it took her fifteen hours to make the trip yesterday from the capes to this yard.

Four Lives Lost.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 16.—A special from Washington, N. C., says: Captain Charlie Williams and three others left here Saturday on the schooner Missouri for their home in Hyde county. Storm bound at Indian Head, they anchored off shore, but after dinner Sunday the wind blew them from their anchorage and the boat was capsized and all on board drowned.

The names of the crew cannot be obtained at this time. None of the bodies has been recovered.

Yacht and Party Safe.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 16.—A special to the Virginian-Pilot from Elizabeth City to night says:

"Oyster Inspector Spencer Davis arrived here from Roanoke Island on the steamer "Wagner" to-day. He said he passed the schooner yacht "Roberia" at anchor off the island this morning. Mr. Davis also said he learned at Manteo that when the storm came up the people on board the "Roberia" left her at anchor and took to the shore in small boats. That the yacht rode the gale and when the wind had subsided the party again boarded the "Roberia."

Crew Rescued.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—After having been lashed to a mast for more than 24 hours and with hope of rescue almost abandoned, Capt. Fisher and crew of seven men of the brig C. C. Sweeney, were taken from their perilous position Tuesday afternoon by the steamer Hawaiian from Honolulu for this port.

The men suffered greatly from exposure to the weather, but are apparently no worse for their experience. The brig left Charleston early last week for Philadelphia with a cargo of lumber, and encountered the southern hurricane off the Virginia coast. The brig withstood the terrific wind and sea for a short time only and then became water-logged. The deck load and houses were swept away and the vessel finally broke in two. The crew then climbed the main mast and lashed themselves in the mainsail to keep from being washed away. They remained in this position until Monday afternoon by which time the sea had moderated enough to permit them to return to the deck of the half sunken hulk. No vessel was sighted until Tuesday morning, when the Hawaiian responded to their distress signals and rescued all hands. The brig was abandoned in latitude 36 30 north, longitude 73.45 west.

Schooner Myra W. Spear.

NORFOLK, VA, Nov. 16.—Four of the schooner Myra W. Spear's crew reached here to-night from Chicamicomico, N. C., where the vessel grounded last week. They confirm the fears held here that the vessel could not survive Sunday's storm. She went completely to pieces during the gale. The men report the storm washed the sea entirely over the land separating the ocean from the sound and say several houses were carried away.

New Inlet is below Pea Island, at which point communication stops and no further confirmation regarding the destruction of the life station there and loss of life can be secured to-night.

Rescued from Home Boat

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 16.—Captain Jask Bensten, of the Norfolk tug Grit, arriving here from Pamlico sound, reports the rescue by his tug of Captain Hutchins and Mrs. Hutchins from the house boat Drift Lodge on Saddle harbor shoals in the sound Sunday. Captain and Mrs. Hutchins were landed at the Portsmouth, N. C., life saving station, where they are being cared for. The house boat is a total wreck, going to pieces shortly after its occupants were taken off its partly submerged roof. Captain Hutchins is a Washington newspaperman.

NORTH SEA DISPUTE.

Negotiations Between Great Britain and Russia Are at a Standstill.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent, who throughout has taken somewhat alarmist views regarding the outcome of the North Sea dispute, in a telegram printed this morning asserts that the admiralty has gained an ascendancy which compels the Foreign Office to repudiate its agreement with Great Britain and that Count Benkendorff, Russian ambassador to Great Britain, will be made the scapegoat and probably will be recalled. Meantime, he adds, the negotiations are at a standstill and the matter will be referred to the Emperor.

A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company, from St. Petersburg, however, confirms the Associated Press dispatches to the effect that Russia does not desire in any way to recede from the basis of the agreement but proposes a modification of the language submitted in the British text.

FIRE CAUSES PANIC.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Three hundred men and girls, employed in several manufacturing concerns in a five story building on the Bowery, were thrown into a panic by fire to-day, but by prompt work on the part of firemen and volunteer rescuers all were taken out in safety. The building was practically destroyed, surface cars on the Bowery and Houston street were blocked for half an hour and the uptown elevated trains for fifteen minutes at the height of the morning rush. The fire probably had its origin in defective electric insulation.

JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER.

Recent Democratic Candidate Has Opened a Law Office in New York City.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Judge Alton B. Parker, recent Democratic candidate for president, opened a law office in the building at 32 Liberty street, in this city, to-day. At the same time he announced that he had become a resident of this city, that Mrs. Parker would join him here to-day, and that they would at once secure a home in this city. While Judge Parker announced that he would not form any law partnership, his new office is in the suite occupied by W. F. Sheehan, of the firm of Sheehan & Collins.

CLYDE LINER ALGONQUIN

Arrived at Jacksonville, Fla., Slightly Damaged in Sunday's Storm

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 16.—The Clyde liner Algonquin arrived here to day slightly listed to starboard because of the shifting of her cargo during Sunday's storm and with a slight rip in her side made by the bowsprit of an unknown schooner which she encountered. The schooner was without lights and hove up in front of the Algonquin when the storm was at its height. It was almost impossible to avoid a collision as both vessels were rolling on heavy seas.

By Cable to the Morning Star

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 16.—Advices from Lieutenant General Stoessel and Rear Admiral Wiren, brought by the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastorpony to Che Foo from Port Arthur, have reached the Emperor, but have not yet been made public. The great importance of the information is apparent from the fact that the torpedo boat destroyer was deliberately sacrificed in order to get the communications from the belesgured garrison. The only word which has reached the admiralty is a telegram from the captain of the Rastorpony announcing his arrival with official dispatches.

The Associated Press later learned from a high placed general who was with the Emperor this afternoon and who knows the contents of General Stoessel's message, that all the talk about General Stoessel asking for instructions to surrender is absolutely false. He said he was not at liberty to disclose the nature of General Stoessel's report, but he remarked:

"Only when the last biscuit is eaten and the last cartridge fired, will the garrison surrender the fortress. This I can state positively."

Considering the authority, the general's word's may be accepted as a reflection of the views of the Emperor himself. The general further stated that the surrender report was all the more ridiculous as several vessels had broken the blockade and reprovisioned the garrison. He added: "General Stoessel also knows that the second Pacific squadron is on its way."

Blew Up Their Warship.

CHE FOO, Nov. 16, 11:30 P. M.—The correspondent of the Associated Press learned authoritatively that the Rastoropny carried sealed orders providing that unless there came a highly favorable opportunity to escape the vessel should be blown up. Sufficient powder for this purpose was secreted before the destroyer left Port Arthur. Several charges of ordinary powder, placed in each of the five water-tight compartments, were exploded.

Customs officer Koenig was on board the destroyer and the Russians experienced considerable difficulty in getting him off without arousing his suspicions. The destroyer's cutter, manned by two men, was lying near, and the official was persuaded to take a ride around the Rastoropny in order that he might see the injuries she was alleged to have received. No sooner had the customs officer stepped into the cutter than a petty officer drew his watch and urged the rowers to make all speed away. When the destroyer had gone down, the official was taken on shore.

Chased by Japanese.

Two Japanese torpedo boat destroyers were seen at the mouth of the harbor to-night and their presence undoubtedly precipitated the action of the Russians in blowing up the Rastoropny.

The explosion was so subdued and the crew remained so silent that it was some time before the report of the affair became current. Even the officials most intimately concerned got the news from the correspondent. The Japanese consul says that nine of the Russian crew came ashore with their rifles, against which action he has protested to the authorities.

Quiet at Mukden.

MUKDEN, Nov. 16.—It has been generally quiet along the Russian lines today, varied by occasional artillery exchanges. There have been fewer skirmishes than for some days past. Reinforcements continue to arrive and one whole regiment was received in a single day. There is reason to believe that important developments will transpire shortly, and that possibly there will be heavy fighting. The weather is clear and intensely cold at night.

CHE FOO, Nov. 17, 8 A. M.—Three torpedo boat destroyers entered the harbor this morning, satisfied themselves that the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny had been sunk, and departed.

GEORGE DAVIS.

If the memory of the just is blessed, the patriotic purpose of the Daughters of the Confederacy will be accomplished in a suitable monument to this greatest of Cape Fear Jurists and Statesmen, who still lives in the hearts of those who loved him.

It is peculiarly appropriate that the prosecution of this good work is engaging the co-operation of the beloved Command which he delighted to honor and uphold. As we contemplate the lofty qualities of the noble man who was taken from our community and commonwealth nearly eight years ago, we cannot repress a sight of regret that such greatness is no more. The soaring thought, the brilliant imagination, the balanced judgment, the profound learning, we do not expect to see every day, nor in every generation. The stainless honor, the broad patriotism and noble disinterestedness of his public service, are unhappily too little seen in our public men. But it is surely not too much to hope that the example of his blameless life will not be lost upon the people among whom he lived so long, and so honorably, and whom he loved so well.

May all who revere his memory attest their loyalty and devotion by a generous support of the Wilmington boys this evening at the Academy of Music.

"To live in the hearts we leave behind, is not to die.
"For the glory born of goodness never dies,
"And its flag is not half masted
"In the skies." W.

— The city of Florence has called an election to be held Dec. 5th to elect a Mayor to succeed Mr. W. H. Malloy, who has resigned to take a position with the Navassa Guano Co., of this city.

There is no practical change in the mill situation at Fall River. The manufacturers claim to have made slight gains over the first two days of the week, but these claims are not admitted by the labor leaders.

Seven Bells.

Everybody who knows anything about nautical matters understands the method of keeping time at sea—eight bells every four hours, an additional bell being struck for each half hour.

From 6 to 8 in the evening is the second dog watch, but on British ships seven bells (half past 7) of the second dog watch are never struck. All other ships, even the American, strike these bells.

During the Napoleonic wars there was a great mutiny in the British navy. The crews of the fleets lying at Spithead and the Nore agreed to rise simultaneously against their officers. The signal agreed upon was seven bells of the second dog watch. The mutiny actually began at the arranged time, but failed, the ringleaders being executed. Ever since then seven bells of the second dog watch has never been struck on British ships, naval or mercantile.

Immortelles.

The manufacture of immortelle wreaths in Paris occupies at least 1,500 persons. The immortelles are gathered about the beginning of October and come chiefly from the arid hills in the middle and south of France. They are brought to the markets in their natural condition, and the yellow blossoms are dyed green, red and white and woven into wreaths by special workmen in readiness for All Saints' and All Souls' days, when all good Parisians visit their relatives' graves. On these "fetes des morts" the gates of the cemeteries are beset with crowds of dealers in immortelle wreaths, wire crosses and bead crowns. At Pere la Chaise alone more than 200,000 persons are calculated to visit the cemetery, and the sale of immortelle wreaths varies from 20,000 to 25,000.—Golden Penny.

Oddly Marked Tombstone.

In an old graveyard in Maine the monument to the founder of a distinguished family is marked with the outline of a human leg. It is formed by black streaks in the granite running through the stone, for at the back there is another leg, but much smaller in dimensions. Nobody saw this blemish when the stone was set up. Not until years had passed did any one notice it. People concluded that the stonecutters, not wishing to go to the expense of quarrying out another block, so hid the leg with cement and stone dust that the actions of the storms of a dozen winters were necessary to expose the strangely formed disfigurement.

Soulanges Canal.

Soulanges canal, fourteen miles in length, is the largest waterway on the St. Lawrence system of canals and undoubtedly of vast importance to Canadian commerce. Many difficulties had to be overcome in its construction, not the least of which was to avoid upsetting the course of three rivers. This was accomplished by providing pipes, which allowed the rivers to pass under the canal. Needless to say, the canal is not a very deep one.

Life of Parliaments.

The Austrian parliament lives six years. The Italian, German, Prussian and Spanish live five years. The French, the Dutch, the Belgian, the Portuguese and the Roumanian live four years. The Danish and the Swiss live three years. The United States congress lives two years, and the Austro-Hungarian parliament only one year.

Knowledge Coming.

"He's had a fortune left to him suddenly. He has actually got more money now than he knows what to do with."

"Never mind. There are certain people who will be anxious to meet him now, and after that he'll know more."—Kennebec Journal.
